Dear Steve,

Leaving something behind and saying good bye often harbours a smack of sadness. However, your music made our party a joyful and unforgettable event. Your strong and expressive voice together with your skillful and rhythmic fingerpicking guitar style presented a lot of seemingly old music in a new, fun and individual way. Needless to say that our very international audience (we had about 60 guests from at least 15 different countries) had a great time. We all enjoyed your music very much and hope to have you back some time for another splendid party.
